Undergrad pursuing a BSc in Physics

I'm currently enrolled as an undergrad and have been looking for work to supplement my studies. While I have no work experience, I am passionate about acquiring new skills and finding solutions to various problems, whether it's in my field or in my day-to-day life. I am eager to prove myself and am capable of executing tasks that are required of me. I love interacting with new people and providing them with the best-possible experience with me.
